MEET LAMONT

“I grew up in poverty, and I swore that my family would never go through what I did. So, I chased the dollar—worked day in and day out to provide. But then I got hurt at work, and it all fell apart.

I did not want to visit a food pantry. I had promised myself that I would never be in a position where I couldn’t provide for my family. But there I was, without work and without food. My wife took it upon herself to go to the pantry because we had kids to feed. She began to insist I go with her. I did, and my life changed.

I began to volunteer at the pantry. They saw something in me, and soon, they hired me. I was later promoted to a director, and now I’m in charge of a program that works with families to break the cycle of poverty. I can provide for my family again, and not only that, I’m truly fulfilled. I know I’m making a big difference in people’s lives.

There are so many others out there waiting to achieve similar success, they just need a little extra help to get there. I’m committed to helping as many people as I can feed their families and reach a brighter future.”

THANKS TO YOU, Lamont’s family has the meals they need.

WATCH THEIR STORY
TOGETHER, WE ARE FIGHTING HUNGER NATIONWIDE

A Message from Our President and Board Chair

Millions of people in our country struggle to make ends meet, but thanks to your incredible generosity, they are receiving the nourishing food they need to move forward.

Your caring support allows us to provide essential food and groceries across the nation. This year, the Feeding America network helped provide a record 4.3 billion meals to people facing hunger. Thanks to you, millions of children, seniors and families in need are receiving crisp apples, wholesome broccoli and more from their local food pantry, served by a Feeding America member food bank.

We also invested in innovative initiatives that enable us to feed, nourish and empower people struggling with hunger and to unite and connect caring neighbors and partners in our mission. We leveraged new technologies and strategies to increase access to nutritious food and help the people we serve overcome hunger for good.

We are delighted to have a new Chief Executive Officer, Claire Babineaux-Fontenot, guiding our efforts into the future. Claire’s leadership and your support are helping us to identify the best ways to achieve our vision of a hunger-free America.

There aren’t easy solutions to the problem of hunger facing our country, but we believe we can create a better world working in partnership. Working together, we can end hunger.

Thank you for helping us provide nourishment and strength to people in need.
IMPACT

Feeding America is moving our country closer to the day when everyone has the food they need. We do this by fighting hunger through innovative initiatives that allow us to feed, nourish, empower, unite and connect with communities in need. Through it all, we keep the people we serve at the center of our work.

Helping Provide Healthy Meals

Thanks to our supporters, we helped provide an incredible 4.3 billion meals to people facing hunger this year. We reached this milestone by investing in creative food sourcing strategies and expanding our partnerships with food donation partners. Grocery and retail partners were our largest source of donated food, providing 1.4 billion pounds of groceries to Feeding America.

MealConnect, our food rescue tech platform, played a significant role in diverting perfectly good food from landfills to families in need by offering a convenient, free and safe way for food companies to donate their surplus food. The platform has helped channel more than 1 billion pounds of donated food to food banks and their partners since its inception.

The Starbucks® FoodShare program is also reducing food waste and fighting hunger by pioneering a new food donation model that has already provided over 10 million meals to families in need. Because of MealConnect, the Starbucks FoodShare program and other strategies, we helped rescue 3.5 billion pounds of good, wholesome food this year.

Today, we are not only sourcing more food—we are providing more nutritious food. This year, we helped provide 1.5 billion pounds of donated produce, enabling struggling families across the country to enjoy more fruits and vegetables. Our multi-faceted produce strategy is helping us learn more every year about how we can partner with food banks regionally and nationally to secure a wider variety of produce at a lower cost. Because of our sharp focus on providing healthy meals, 69% of the food that the network distributed this year was classified by Feeding America as Foods to Encourage—foods that promote good health, such as fruits, vegetables, dairy, whole grains and protein.

229 MILLION SNAP MEALS

Reaching Seniors in Need

Janet (above right) is just one of the millions of seniors nationwide who needs a little help putting food on the table. In fact, 1 in 12 older Americans faces hunger. Seniors who struggle with hunger are more likely to experience depression, asthma and other chronic health conditions. Feeding America is dedicated to helping deliver the meals they need. Food banks provide 140 million meals annually to seniors. This year, we moved closer to solving senior hunger by providing grants to food banks to enhance their senior hunger programs and hosting a Closing the Senior SNAP Gap Summit and a Senior Hunger Solutions Lab.

Helping Households Access SNAP

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) enables families to buy the food they need for good health. This year, the SNAP Application Assistance Program enabled 229 million meals by supporting food banks to access SNAP funding and engage in SNAP advocacy and outreach. As part of the program, some network members also operate the Online SNAP Referral Program, which uses online search ads to connect potential SNAP applicants with application assistance. The Online SNAP Referral Program facilitated nearly 20K SNAP applications and approximately 15 million meals this year—an increase of more than 30% over last year in both categories.

Nourishing Hungry Kids

Hunger is not only a problem facing kids in other parts of the world—it affects children in our own cities and towns. It may be hard to believe, but 1 in 6 children in America struggles with hunger. As part of their commitment to ending child hunger, food banks deliver meals to 12 million kids in need every year. This year, generous partners like you enabled 15 food banks to create child hunger strategic plans, connecting their child feeding programs to their organizational strategic plans. Additionally, 18 network members invested in initiatives to provide even more nutritious food to children facing hunger during the summer, when free or reduced-price meals are not available. And, over the past few years, a total of 46 Corps members successfully completed the Child Hunger Corps program to help food banks reach more kids in need.

Serving Devastated Communities

Natural disasters damage homes, workplaces and communities, making life harder for people facing hunger and causing families that have never struggled with hunger to seek out food assistance. Hurricanes, wildfires and other catastrophes have caused record-breaking devastation in our country, yet the Feeding America network has persisted in helping people in need.

This year, more than 40 food banks responded to large-scale disasters in their communities. To help them meet the elevated need for resources, Feeding America—through the support of individuals, foundations and corporations—provided them with an additional 24 million pounds of food, water and supplies. We also facilitated the distribution of more than $20 million in disaster-relief grant funding to food banks and collaborated with public, private and nonprofit partners to access more resources for communities in need. Network members across the country also lent a hand, providing food, equipment and 95 loaned staff members to responding food banks. These efforts helped network members deliver more meals than ever. They worked around the clock to host emergency food distributions, provide groceries to shelters and serve meals to first-responders.

Houston Food Bank distributed approximately half of the amount of food they typically distribute in an entire year in the two months after Hurricane Harvey. Banco de Alimentos de Puerto Rico, the Feeding America member in Puerto Rico, provided groceries to each of the island’s 78 municipalities in the months immediately following Hurricane Maria. By the end of 2017, the Feeding America network had delivered more than 100 million pounds of food and supplies to people affected by Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria.

Network members continue to serve households recovering from last year’s natural disasters. It will be a long time before their communities heal, but the compassion of fellow food banks and supporters like you will strengthen them and the people they serve, now and into the future.
YOU HELPED US NOURISH.

Helping Improve Health Outcomes

Hunger places incredible demands on families, prompting them to make tough choices between food and other necessities. This can include the difficult decision to purchase inexpensive, but less nutritious food to stretch household budgets. Thankfully, Feeding America is learning more every day about how we can better support individuals and communities to meet their nutritional and health needs. The work we do is not just about feeding people—it is also about addressing barriers so everyone can thrive.

This year, supporters like you helped us promote wellness in communities across the country. We collaborated with food banks and health care organizations to support better nutrition among the people we serve. These partnerships enabled us to create a food insecurity screening toolkit for health care professionals, help struggling families access health care coverage and connect people in need with healthy food and nutrition education. As more health care organizations seek to improve patient health outcomes, the Feeding America network will continue deepening our relationships with them to improve diets and alleviate hunger.

We also participated in research that shed additional light on the connections between hunger and health. Dr. Hilary Seligman, Feeding America’s senior medical advisor, co-authored a research study that found participation in SNAP was associated with lower health care expenditures. We also completed the first rigorous study that demonstrates food banks can significantly improve food security and dietary intake among the people they serve.
YOU HELPED US EMPOWER.

Ending Hunger

With your help, Feeding America is not only providing meals—we are also charting a path toward ending hunger.

Our Collaborating for Clients pilot program offered us a successful roadmap for working with network members and partner organizations to affect long-term change in communities. Food banks across the nation have also gained valuable insights through their own programs focused on ending hunger through providing food, increasing access to public benefits and developing local partnerships.

This year, we launched the Ending Hunger Community of Practice, a learning community that will build on our collective experience and leverage outside experts to determine the best ways to help families overcome hunger for good.

As part of the learning community, we launched a cohort made up of food banks that offer job training in their kitchens and warehouses. They will share insights with each other and consult external experts about ways to increase the scale and impact of their programs.

Moving forward, we will continue leveraging the learning community to launch new pilot programs and evaluate existing food bank and partner programs designed to help families conquer hunger over the long term. We have developed a framework that will help us to identify cost-effective programs that drive towards three outcomes: food security, financial stability and personal empowerment. These outcomes in combination are critical to a household’s ability to address hunger today and prevent it in the future.

Our vision is to help households live free from hunger through models that work in different contexts. We are committed to identifying effective models while at the same time preparing food banks to replicate proven approaches. Over time, we will expand the most successful models to make a measurable impact on families facing hunger nationwide.
YOU HELPED US UNITE.

Standing Up for Struggling Families

Hunger is not a partisan issue. To reduce our nation’s meal gap, Feeding America partners with lawmakers from both parties to educate Congress and the Administration about policies that will reduce hunger. This year, we won key legislative victories that brought more meals to households in need. Following Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria, we worked with Congress to secure $24 million in food for impacted communities. We also helped secure an additional $177 million in food purchases by the US Department of Agriculture (USDA) by working with network members to educate the USDA on the positive impact they can have by purchasing surplus foods for food banks to distribute through The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP).

Advocates like you took more than 100K ACTIONS to help us promote policies that fight hunger.

By leveraging our hunger expertise and research, we help shape, advance and strengthen policies that support people facing hunger. As legislators worked on our nation’s next Farm Bill, we raised our voices to show Congress how proposed changes to federal nutrition programs could harm families in need. We created a sign-on letter that 2,600 organizations signed and coordinated a national call-in and food bank fly-in that resulted in 150 meetings with lawmakers and congressional staff in one day. We also shared analysis with key officials to show the scope of hunger in America, the widespread support for SNAP among voters and the total meals that would be lost if pending legislation passed.

Additionally, we help food banks and the American public engage lawmakers to support the policies that address hunger. Half of food banks in the network have received coaching through our Advocacy Academy training program. Further, Feeding America’s digital supporters took an incredible 100,000 advocacy actions on behalf of people in need this year.

Following Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria, we advocated with Congress to secure $24 MILLION IN FOOD for impacted communities.

Humanizing Hunger to Support Struggling Communities

We spread the word about hunger and inspired empathy and action for people in need. By telling the stories of people who experience hunger, we are giving hunger a face and humanizing an issue that is often misunderstood and overlooked. Supporters like you helped amplify these efforts.

We developed a new public service announcement campaign with the Ad Council called “Stories of Hidden Hunger,” highlighting everyday people who struggle with hunger to demonstrate that food insecurity affects people from all walks of life.

During Hunger Action Month in September, we received more than $1 million in donated media and the support of many celebrities, corporate partners and food banks.

Our #thankFULL holiday campaign earned 9.8 million impressions and encouraged the public to give a holiday gift that makes everyone #thankFULL by donating to Feeding America.

We also shined a light on the millions of children who go without food when school is out through a summer hunger campaign that resulted in 28 million impressions. The campaign successfully engaged the public on this important topic, with over 100,000 engagements online.

Feeding America’s thought leadership on the issue of hunger was demonstrated through more than 93,000 stories in top media outlets. In July, Dr. Sanjay Gupta highlighted hunger in America and Feeding America’s work on CNN’s “Champions for Change” series. Our work was also featured by TIME Magazine, the TODAY Show, The Washington Post, The New York Times and more.

Fighting Hunger through Cause Marketing

Feeding America’s generous corporate partners understand that hunger is a problem that affects all of us. We work closely with our partners to develop creative and impactful campaigns that help educate the public about the issue and inspire action to generate financial donations. Thanks to their support, many people don’t have to face today with an empty stomach.

Learning About the Face of Hunger

With your support, we conducted research that deepened our understanding of hunger in America. By providing local-level estimates of food insecurity nationwide, Map the Meal Gap demonstrated that hunger persists in every community. The State of Senior Hunger in America revealed that while the number of seniors facing hunger in America has declined, it remains substantially above the number in 2007 and more than double the number in 2001. Both studies not only shed light on the number and demographics of people facing hunger but also the challenges they face accessing federal nutrition assistance.

We also forged ahead with initiatives that are helping food banks collect data to improve their outreach to people in need. The Service Insights Initiative is enabling network members to gain deeper insights about their communities by providing them with a framework and tools for responsibly gathering more timely data about the people they serve using a common software system. Additionally, as part of our commitment to engaging community members in our work, we collaborated with food banks to collect feedback from the people we serve about their experiences as part of Pathways for Community Voices. Looking ahead, we will continue supporting the network’s efforts to improve their work using data-driven insights.

PIONEERING RESEARCH

We deepened our understanding of hunger through
YOU HELPED US CONNECT.

Fostering Innovation

Feeding America’s innovation team has been charged with designing the charitable food model of the future. Recognizing that food banks have been innovators from the very beginning, this year we identified some of the network’s key assets and opportunities for transforming our model. Collaborating with network members, food pantries and people facing hunger, we began exploring how to transform the ways food is sourced, shared and accessed.

In partnership with Northern Illinois Food Bank, Second Harvest Food Bank Feeding South Louisiana and Feeding Tampa Bay, we led a project called Access 2.0 to explore how we might provide more convenient, dignified and private ways to access charitable food. Working closely with partners in these communities, we conducted in-home interviews with people struggling with hunger to understand their experiences facing hunger. These interviews helped us develop and test concepts to better serve people in need, ranging from tech-enabled ordering platforms to high-touch roles that support people navigating the charitable food system. We are continuing to develop these concepts.

We also explored new ways to more effectively reach rural communities in collaboration with Feeding America West Michigan Food Bank. Through learning more about food insecurity in rural communities, we were able to identify opportunities for innovation, using our network operations in different ways, extending our capacities through partnerships and tapping into local assets. This work is also moving forward.

Your gifts helped us test INNOVATIVE approaches to alleviating hunger.

Our approach to innovation is rooted in human-centered design, which focuses on empathy for the end-user. As we look ahead, we will continue driving empathy for people in need as we use innovation to complement our existing work, including efforts to fight hunger through research, programs and food sourcing.
INVESTING IN THE SUCCESS OF FOOD BANKS

Your generosity allowed Feeding America to provide an unprecedented $94 million in grants to member food banks—66% more than what was granted last year. These critical investments helped network members support disaster-stricken communities, expand promising hunger-relief initiatives and so much more to provide meals across the country. A large portion of the funding was made possible by successful cause marketing campaigns and significant support for disaster relief efforts.
FINANCIALS

Feeding America carefully manages the funds entrusted to us by our committed supporters. We work hard to identify and invest in efforts that will bring the greatest benefit to people facing hunger.
Feeding America had total public support and revenue of $2.9 billion and operating expenses of $2.9 billion in fiscal year 2018.
Feeding America’s auditors have expressed an unmodified opinion on our financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2018. General Mills is making it possible for us to rescue even more food for children and families in need.

General Mills’ $1 million, multi-year investment in MealConnect has enabled Feeding America to dramatically scale the platform, including creating a mobile app that makes it convenient for food companies to donate their surplus food to the Feeding America network. General Mills has also generously lent their logistics expertise and network to Feeding America to pilot MealConnect Logistics, a program that is allowing us to rescue even more food for children and families in need. MealConnect Logistics redirects trucks filled with perfectly good food that can’t be sold in stores—such as boxes of cereal that were shipped in incorrect quantities or slightly damaged in transit—to the nearest food bank. This program helped channel nearly 500,000 pounds of food from landfills to people facing hunger over a nine-month period.
Feeding America Leadership Partners are recognized for their generous contributions or commitments of $1 million or more, donations of 10 million pounds or more of food and grocery products, or combined gifts of $500,000 or more and 5 million pounds or more of food and grocery products. Since 2017, Feeding America has partnered with The Rockefeller Foundation to test and innovate ways to ensure fresh, nutritious food is more accessible and available through the charitable food system, leading to better health outcomes. Together, we have tested concepts to efficiently rescue more fresh produce so we can provide more healthy meals to people in need. The Rockefeller Foundation’s expertise and commitment to advancing a more nourishing and sustainable food system make them an invaluable partner as Feeding America pursues its strategic direction to achieve a hunger-free America.

PetSmart® helped provide more than 13 million pounds of food for pets in need.

To celebrate its 30th anniversary, PetSmart®, and its independent nonprofit partner, PetSmart Charities, launched the “Buy A Bag, Give A Meal” campaign where for every bag of dog or cat food purchased at PetSmart stores and online, food was donated to a pet in need—yielding over 13 million pounds of donated food for Feeding America and other organizations across North America. Feeding America helped eliminate the burden of families in need making additional sacrifices to provide food for their pets.
The following companies, organizations and foundations are recognized for their generous contributions of $5,000 or more through matching gift programs.

VAN HENGEL SOCIETY

The van Hengel Society, named in honor of John van Hengel, the founder of the modern food bank movement, honors individuals who make legacy gifts, including bequests and charitable gift annuities, in support of Feeding America.

In memory of van Hengel Society members whose legacy to fight hunger was realized this year.

International Paper created the custom box that Feeding America uses for the disaster packs we pre-stage across the country.

International Paper’s dedication to both hunger and disaster relief led the company to create the custom box that Feeding America uses for the disaster packs we pre-stage across the country. Developing the optimum box involved teamwork. Feeding America shared our preferred specifications for the box based on our expertise in food banking and disaster response, and International Paper offered their expertise in product development. Before the design was finalized, prototypes were tested in a lab and at food banks to determine the best ways to pack and position them boxes on pallets to prevent them from crushing. In addition to donating thousands of these boxes to food banks, International Paper has provided philanthropic support for our disaster relief efforts and general operating support and participated in pre-disaster packing events at local food banks.
Feeding America’s leaders are committed to living out our core values of leadership, learning and excellence. With their guidance and support, Feeding America helps provide more meals to children, families and seniors than any other domestic hunger-relief organization.
